AFTERNOON EDITION

GREAT REVIVAL AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH IS TO BE RESUMED

Meeting Refuses to Close — Thirteen Additions to Church at Reception Held Monday Evening for the New Members.

The great evangelistic meeting at the Christian church which has been in progress since January fifteen was to have been brought to a close Sunday night but so great was the interest that it refused to close. Monday night a reception was held for new members. A short address to the new members was given by the minister followed by a brief exhortation to others to confess Christ and united with the church and thirteen responded to the invitation, bringing the total number of additions to the church during the meeting up to fifty-two. Of this number twenty-six were by confession of faith, two from a denominational church, four by reconssecration and transfer of membership and twenty by transfer of membership from out of town Christian churches. Besides these many of the members of the local church renewed their vows to Christ and the whole membership practically has been greatly strengthened in their faith and consecration.

Since there are so many others deeply interested the meetings will be resumed Thursday night at 7:15. The big chorus led by Dr. Snoot will have charge of the music and Miss Addie Boyd and Mrs. Claude Watkins will preside at the pianos. The pastor will preach. Baptismal services at the close Thursday night. Everybody cordially invited to come and share these good meetings with us. The singing is a big feature.

The reception to the new members was well attended and everybody was happy. Mr. Kackley's class had charge of the refreshments and general arrangements led by their president Mrs. Steele.

The Tuckermans who led so splendidly in the music and personal work had to go on to Altoona, Pa., for their next meeting, left Saturday. They rendered fine service while here and were much enjoyed by the large audiences in attendance.

At 6 o'clock a dinner will be served and the work will be completed after dinner.

LIGHTS TO BE BETTER DISTRIBUTED IN CITY.

In accordance with an order of the City Council, the Gas and Electric Light committee of council proposed a complete and careful survey of the location of all electric lights in the city. There has been complaints that the lights are not properly distributed to give the city the best lighting and some changes will probably be ordered made at once.

GROWERS PLEASED OVER DISTRICT, FITZGERALD SAYS

Warehouse Manager Returns From Tour of Inspection Throughout Maysville District.

Warehouse Manager J. W. Fitzgerald returned Saturday from a tour of inspection of this district and pronounced himself thoroughly satisfied with the conduct and efficiency of the entire personnel. He stated that the entire area was enjoying the same attitude of content and general satisfaction as prevails here. Mr. A. E. Robinson, the head grader for this district paid to the force of Maysville's market the high compliment of saying: "This is the most systematic and well-ordered market in this district."

Mr. Adam Pabst, the celebrated rafter of good tobacco from Dover, delivered two crops to the local receiving point and received the splendid average advance of $12.00 for one and $14.40 for the other. This certainly bears out the reputation for excellence that Mr. Pabst rightfully enjoys. Other well raised and handled crops were those of:

G. S. Haughabood, 3180 pounds averaging $10.60. W. H. Newell, 2330 pounds averaging $11.00. Sallie D. Slack, 2877 pounds averaging $13.11. Albert Berry, 965 pounds averaging $12.97.

INTERESTING LIGHT ON LOCAL HISTORY IN ELIZABETH PAPER

Warehouse Manager Returns From Tour of Inspection Throughout Maysville District.

Reference Made to Colonel John May and His Founding of Maysville Is Made in Boat Building Edition of Journal.

In a "Boat Building Edition" of the Elizabeth Herald, published at Elizabeth, Pa., there appears an interesting sidelight on local history which will be read with great interest by citizens of Maysville.

Under the general heading "A Century of Boat Building", the journal says in part:

It will be seen that Elizabeth was thus from its beginning an important point on the great highway to the almost unknown west, many settlers coming this far overland, buying or having constructed flat-boats here, on which their possessions were stored for a continuance of the journey by water, the Monongahela and Ohio rivers, forming the natural highway. An interesting sidelight is thrown on the history at this point by an extract from the diary of Col. John May, who journeyed through this region at the time. He writes under date of May 5, 1788, as follows:

"I rose early on the morning of Monday, 5th; left the people and wagon behind, and advanced as fast, as possible to finish my land tracks; dined at Simmerell's, on the Yohogana and slept at Clark's on the Monongahela. While at Simmerell's, they used every stratagem to detain us all night, and perhaps as long as was General Putman, who tarried at this place two months. They said it was better boating from this river than from the Monongahela, but they are Irish palaverers, and the truth is not in them. Clark keeps a tolerable house where it is called Elizabeth's town, fourteen miles from Pittsburg, by land and twenty-two by water. The town is laid out in house-lots, and now settling; he intends to make a city of it, but I think he will have his match. This day was raised here a large shed for building boats. Almost all the Kentucky boats from the east pass this place; near two hundred have passed this spring."

Col. May was on his way west at this time. He had taken out a claim on the Ohio River a few years before, and the present city of Maysville, Kentucky, is built on it and named in his honor. A block-house was erected at the mouth of Limestone Creek and a number of lots laid out in 1784. The town was established by an act of the Virginia Legislature in 1787. In 1790 Col. May, while descending the Ohio, was attacked by Indians, on March 20, and he and others of his party were killed, at the mouth of the Scioto.

There are persons yet living here who remember a large shed which stood on Water street, just below the coal railroad on Mill street, occupying parts of the lot where T. J. Gilmer has his home and that recently occupied by A. G. Lewis and family. Keel-boats were built there from very early times. This may have been the structure the raising of which was witnessed by Col. May in 1788. It was standing there in 1819 and had been for some time before. It was blown down by the great hurricanes of 1831, but must have been reared again, for persons who came on the scene of action since then remember it. But it finally passed away many years ago.

Hear Goldstein at the court house tonight.

ADVERSE REPORT GIVEN TWO ANTI-DARWIN BILLS

Senate Committee Votes Solidly Against Rash Measure; One Substitute Rejected.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7. — The Senate committee on Kentucky statutes last night voted to report unfavorably the Rash anti-evolution bill and to return an unfavorable majority report on the first substitute measure.

The committee voted as a whole against the Rash bill to prohibit the teaching of brute to man evolution in state-maintained institutions. Senators Griffin Kelly of Daviess county and John A. Lee of Gallatin county are expected to sign a minority report on the first substitute.

Senator H. F. Green of Livingston county did not vote on the measures. Those who voted to return an unfavorable report on the substitute, a less radical offering, were Senators Frank E. Daugherty of Nelson county, William L. Wallace of Madison county and Charles J. Hubbard of Larue county.

The second substitute measure was not considered.

PRODUCTS FOR POLAND.

It is understood that a contract has been made by several American firms to furnish Poland with about $10,000,000 worth of machinery, motor trucks, and raw materials. The transaction is entirely on a credit basis, eight per cent. gold notes of the Polish government having been taken in exchange for the goods. A resident of Chicago who has been making an investigation of the country says there is a large field for American products there, but that all trade at present must be done on credit. He is convinced that the outlook for Poland is bright, with no threat of Bolshevism, strikes, or other uprisings.

CLEANUP SALE

Another big cleanup sale of surplus army supplies is to be held at Atlanta, Georgia. Millions of dollars worth of clothing, leather goods, foodstuffs, machinery, etc., are to be offered at public auction on a series of dates beginning in February. The prices obtained will probably be only a fraction of the cost of the goods, but any return for them will be preferable to allowing them to deteriorate in storage. Secretary of War Weeks is pursuing a consistent policy of liquidation in his department that will turn into money thousands of tons of supplies now lying idle.

Japanese cotton manufacturers are apparently planning to hold the gains which they made during the war in supplying the Orient with cotton goods. Their purchases of our cotton in 1921 will be much larger than in any earlier year of our trade with that country. The quantity of cotton exported to Japan for the single month of October was 59,000,000 pounds against only 2,000,000 in the same month of the preceding year. Even these large purchases of our raw cotton by Japan have not prevented a considerable increase in our exports of cotton goods to that section of the Orient which is supposed to rely largely upon Japan for its cotton manufactures. Our exports of unbleached cotton cloths to China in the month of October, 1921, were 2,622,000 yards against 441,000 in the same month of last year; to India 5,468,000 yards against 1,174,000 in October, 1920; and to the Philippines 682,000 yards against 358,900 in the same month of last year.

In England motor show succeeds motor show, and the November cycle exhibition, which closes the 1921 displays, enables manufacturers to gauge the work likely to be on the market during the next few months. British motorcycles hold their own overseas against all comers where reliability and high efficiency are demanded. What the show has done has been to emphasize the public demand for the light motor vehicle of any sort, and orders for abroad have been more than in either of the previous exhibitions of the Autumn.

An interesting point in connection with Pacific Coast trade through the Panama Canal is the utilization of that waterway in moving fresh fruits to eastern American and to European markets. During the first eight months of 1921, 5,927 tons of fresh fruits were shipped through the Canal, all but 149 tons going to Atlantic and Gulf ports of the United States. The report is current that 300,000 boxes of apples will be loaded in Seattle for Europe via the Canal before the end of the year.

Influences are at work which tend to stimulate the sales of American low-priced motor cars abroad. The recent reductions in American prices have helped sales on those of our vehicles selling in Belgium under 30,000 francs, and the market there for such cars is now more promising than at any time during the past year. Many buyers find that the light cars of French manufacture do not stand up on the rough Belgian roads as satisfactorily as American makes of corresponding weight.

A brief was submitted by the Cuban-American Sugar Company and a number of other firms opposing the increase of duty on sugar in the Fordney Bill. The brief calls attention to the fact that American sugar producers are vitally interested in the Cuban situation inasmuch as they represent more than 50 per cent. of the sugar production of the island and also it points out that Cuba supplies the United States with approximately 50 per cent. of its annual consumption.

It is stated that intelligent co-operation on the part of American exporters will be necessary to meet the higher rates contemplated in the new Spanish tariff. The new rates will probably go into effect about January first. Increased duties are proposed on a large number of American export products, including all kinds of petroleum, cinematograph films, typewriters, electrical goods, food products, sugar and coffee.

Kentucky Grain Brings More Than Any Other State's--Eggs and Butter Lower.

Washington, Feb. 6. -- With the exception of corn, Kentucky farmers are receiving more for their grain and similar products than is being paid in most of the other states, according to a compilation made public today by the department of Agriculture, which gives the estimated farm values of important products on January 1 in each state. The farmers of the Blue Grass state, on the other hand, are receiving less for very perishable products, such as butter, eggs and poultry, than is being paid in a large majority of the other states.

The estimated farm value for a pound of butter, for instance, was lower in Kentucky than in any other state except Tennessee, while the estimated farm value of a dozen eggs or pound of poultry was lower in Kentucky than in 35 of the 47 other states.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeannie Price

New York.—Four hundred and fifty Spanish immigrants got started for home earlier than they had expected, just because an English girl had never seen Broadway—and wanted to. Miss Isabelle Muir is the daughter of an English shipbuilder, who is now building cruisers for the Spanish navy. Miss Muir was one of the passengers who boarded the liner Alfonso XII, at Corunna, Spain, due to touch at Havana and Vera Cruz and then return to Spanish shores. But part way across, Miss Muir decided that she wanted to see Broadway, and asked the captain if he couldn't oblige her. So the captain communicated with the New York office and they agreed that the Alfonso

XII was a perfectly feasible ship on which to send home these 450 Spaniards who had fled to this country during the war. So everything was arranged. The ship came into New York Harbor for the first time in three years; Miss Muir saw Broadway; and the immigrants started home.

New York City may abandon the trolley car. It has become only a short ride vehicle, anyway, due to the subways and elevated roads, and the city is now working to get busses instead of trolleys for those rides. Twenty-five million dollars have been asked for the establishment of a municipal motor bus system, which would mean, according to the estimates, 201 bus routes, with 3,000 busses to replace the same number of trolley cars.

—NY—

The long discussed question of where the population center of New York is located has at last been answered. Brooklyn and the Bronx have grown so rapidly in the past few years that each one was insisting that the center of density of habitation had been pulled in its direction. However, investigation has now been made and proves that the center of New York's six millions is in the block bounded by Broadway, Seventh avenue, Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets. The discovery certainly brought joy and pride to the management of the Hotel Commonwealth enterprise, which has been insisting all along that the hotel would be "the heart of New York" and now has its poetical boast verified by cold statistics. This is the hotel which is being built as a co-operative endeavor by 75,000 persons, which will open its doors in June, 1923.

We are going to be an art center so far as personalities are concerned for a few days, at least. And all due to a lawsuit. Captain and Mrs. H. J. Hahn have declared that what they bought for a real Da Vinci masterpiece, is an imitation, and they want their $500,000 back. And a fair proportion of all the art experts in Europe have come over here to swear to the picture's authenticity. The Hahns say they are prepared to spend $1,000,000 to prove that Joseph Duveen, art dealer who insists that the painting is a Da Vinci is wrong, and that the Italian master would scorn the work. A whole corps of authorities, headed by Monsieur Sortais, official critic for the French Government, have landed in our midst to uphold the dealer.

Ever have a "low-down" pain in the back? In the "small," right over the hips? That's the home of backache. If it's caused by weak kidneys. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Maysville people testify to their worth. Read a case of it:

Mrs. R. L. Mattingly, 207 West Second street, Maysville, says: "I was in a bad condition with my back and kidneys. I couldn't get my proper rest at night owing to the dull misery in my back. I was feeling so miserable I often had to let my housework go undone. I was dizzy by spells and also suffered from rheumatic pains. I have been so bad that I couldn't walk without pushing a chair in front of me and my lower limbs were very painful. My kidneys were in a bad condition owing to their irregular action. My mother had used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and that is why I sent to Wood & Son's Drug Store and get a couple boxes. After using them I was all right. I have felt well since using Doan's and recommend them gladly."

Price 60c., all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mattingly had. Foster-Milburn Co., M's., Buffalo, N. Y.

MANY BILLS BEFORE STATE LEGISLATURE

Kentucky General Assembly Starts on the Home Stretch Today—Many Bills Up.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 6.—With the mass of bills in line for passage or defeat in both houses of the Kentucky General Assembly striking dangerously near the century mark, that body will swing into the home stretch this afternoon at 1 o'clock in an effort to get as many measures as possible out of the way before the regime of the Rules Committee begins. In the House there will be fifty bills lined up in the orders of the day and in the Senate there will be ten less.

The Assembly got down to real work during the last week and as a result twenty-four measures passed the House and twenty-nine received enough votes to get by in the Senate. One new measure went to the Governor for his signature. The knife officially was handed to twenty-eight bills in the House and five in the Senate, while the worst went around that several prominently mentioned measures would be defeated when the time came. Two bills have been passed by both houses and the Governor has signed both.
